

Kindness Contest

Let's face it, 2020 is on the naughty list, and we all could use a little cheer. The best way to spread cheer (besides singing loud for all to hear) is through kindness. That is why Rochester Police Department is holding a Kindness Contest. RPD invites students K-12 to share a story or drawing that depicts an act of kindness you experienced recently. It could be something you did or saw. The students with the most uplifting entries will win a Target gift card and candy, which we all know is one of the four main food groups.

Don't be a cotton-headed ninny muggins! Email your entry to RPDKindnessContest@gmail.com by noon on December 15 and include your first and last name, grade, school, email address and phone number. RPD will notify winners on December 21.

Note: To spread cheer and encourage kindness, RPD will be sharing Kindness Contest entries on our Facebook page (@RochesterMNPd). Your submission must be original and created by you, legal, non-defamatory and non-threatening. You certify that you have the right to submit the entry that you are submitting. Your submission signifies agreement to these guidelines. The selection of the winners is final.
